FORENSIC, LITIGATION & VALUATION SERVICES (FLVS)

Forensic accounting, litigation support services, and business valuation have long been cornerstones of the firm. In recent years, however, Whitley Penn’s Forensic, Litigation & Valuation Services (FLVS) group has grown into one of the largest of its kind in the state of Texas. With more than 40 individuals, the combined horsepower of our team is a key advantage that allows us to handle complex matters and a large caseload in an efficient and effective manner.

Boasting decades of experience among our testifying experts, and with professional credentials including CPAs, JDs, MBAs, ABVs, ASAs, and CFEs, among others, our team is qualified to provide a broad spectrum of forensic and litigation services. This includes analysis and expert testimony within the context of divorce, commercial disputes, fraud, and forensic investigations, and intellectual property issues. Whitley Penn’s FLVS team is well versed in the litigation and trial process, and our professionals have testified as experts hundreds of times in venues across the country, including federal district courts, state courts, tax courts, and courts of claims, as well as before domestic and international arbitration panels.

DATA PRODUCTS & STRATEGY

Almost all companies recognize the power of data and insights, however many struggle to unlock its full potential. The dilemma most face is that data investments must deliver near-term value and at the same time lay the foundation for rapidly developing future uses.

Our Data Products & Strategy team uses data products to enable businesses to manufacture new insights, new products, and new opportunities. This allows for businesses to begin to treat data as an asset and through a product methodology we can measure value and ROI for the decisions derived from their data products.

Our team has significant experience with the energy sector.

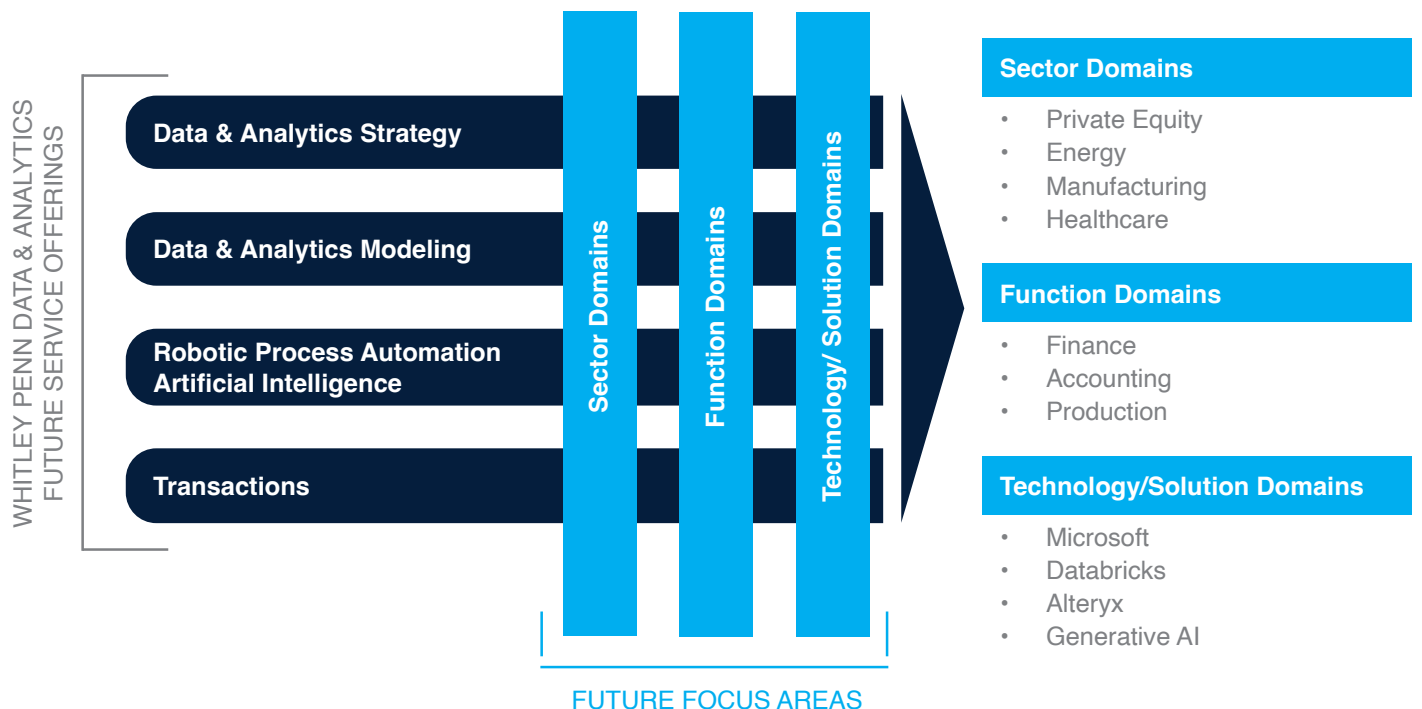

Including:

- » Developing LOS Reporting
- » Integrating Various Oil & Gas Software Programs
- » Creating Client Oil & Gas Reporting Dashboards

Additional Services We Provide

- » Data Product Development
- » Data Design and Strategy
